MONDAY EVENING, AUGUST 13.

A WIFE'S RAID .- A rather well appearing woman of middle age was lodged in the station house last night on complaint of Xavier and Anton Rotly, saloon proprietors, corner of 2nd and Cedar streets, who charge her with disturbing the peace. The woman's story is to the effect that her husband, who is a river engineer, has a habit of getting drunk, and when in that condition amuses himself by maltreating her. condition amuses himself by maltreating her. He showed an inclination yesterday to fill up, and the wife determined that he should not. She followed him about, and when he went into Rotly's saleon she went in too. She protested against liquor being sold to him, and asked that he be not encouraged to remain. The barkeeper declined to respect her wishes. Opportunity offered and she "went through" that saleon, making it look as though the Mount Carmel tornado had passed by. Bottles and glasses were smashed, and whiskey, brandy and gin went out upon the floor to join the wreek. The barkeeper took the floor to join the wreck. The barkseper took her by the shoulders to put her out, when she left her mark on the door by dashing in the French plate. This was too much for the Rotlys, and they caused her arrest. Some time subsequent the husband appeared at the station house and expressed a wish to go bond for his wife's appearance, and she was accordingly re-leased.—St Louis Globe Democrat Aug. 7.
